

Mission and Composition/ Mission et Composition

English content:

MISSION OF THE BUREAU OF THE CONGRESS

The mission of the bureau of the Congress is to:

- Guide the work of the congress by directing the discussions of the congress towards the adoption of clear and realistic recommendations and proposals to be submitted to the decision-making organs of the Union ;
- Advocate, at the highest level, sensitizing African political authorities so that they may involve themselves in the organization of the congress.
- Sensitize all African economists on the continent and elsewhere in the world to ensure that the Congress will be a success;
- Contribute to the resource mobilization efforts for the organization of the congress, identify the issues that emanate from it and indicate appropriate frameworks for resolving the same.
- Contribute to the identification of the themes of future congresses.
- Contribute to the dissemination, broadcast and popularization of the proceedings of the Congress.
- Constantly scrutinize the international economic environment, identify issues emanating from it and indicate the appropriate frameworks for resolving the same;
- Bring about the members' support for African economists from the continent and the Diaspora ;
- Contribute to the periodic preparation and organization of Congresses.

COMPOSITION OF THE BUREAU OF THIS CONGRESS

Each year, a congress bureau shall be put in place in order to assist the AU in organizing the next Congress. This bureau shall be constituted at the end of each Congress. Exceptionally, the first bureau, in charge of this Congress shall remain operational until the next Congress, when elections shall be held to ensure that a new bureau takes over from the current one.