THIS ADVISORY IS SUBJECT TO UPDATES

1. ACCREDITATION FOR MEDIA PERSONNEL BASED OUTSIDE ETHIOPIA

All journalists will apply online. The media accreditation form is available on <https://au.int/en/summit/31/accreditation>

Once journalists receive confirmation of their application from the Directorate of Information and Communication (DIC), they should print it and, along with their application documents and passport copy, take it to Mauritania Embassy in their country. Documents should be taken to the PUBLIC DIPLOMACY CENTER and not the visa center.

The documents will be processed by the Mauritania government authorities through their channels and journalists will receive their visas from their points of application.

All journalists will be issued with journalist visas. No journalist will be allowed to attend the summit on a business or tourist visa.

ACCREDITATION FOR JOURNALISTS APPLYING FROM COUNTRIES WHERE THERE IS NO MAURITANIAN EMBASSY

Journalists from countries where there is no Mauritania embassy should fill in the visa on arrival form available on the AU website: www.au.int

Once received, DIC will forward it to the Mauritania Government Communication Authority for processing as per the regulations.

ACCREDITATION FOR JOURNALISTS WHO ARE ON MISSION IN COUNTRIES WHERE THERE IS NO MAURITANIA EMBASSY

Media personnel who are on mission where there is no Mauritania embassy should observe the following regulations:

Their organization should facilitate the process for them. Their residence card should be attached to their application documents.

They should go, in person, to collect their visa from their country of residence.

Three methods of accreditation are available for journalists applying from outside Mauritania.

1.1. Online system:

The online accreditation form is available at
